Section 10.18 Clinical Practice Protocols and Guidelines

10.18.1 Introduction
Clinical Practice Guidelines are important tools to help providers, members, families, and teams make clinically appropriate decisions about care. This policy will reference best and promising practices, Clinical Practice Protocols and Clinical Practice Guidelines.

- ADHS/DBHS Clinical Practice Protocols
  Clinical Practice Protocols are researched and published by Arizona Department of Health Services/Division of Behavioral Health Services (ADHS/DBHS). These Practice Protocols outline expectations and guidelines for implementation of best practices within Arizona’s public behavioral health system. In accordance with DBHS requirements, NARBHA will focus select clinical practice protocols as identified by DBHS each contract year. These protocols are incorporated by reference into provider contracts and can be located on the NARBHA and DBHS websites. Selected protocols have required elements and NARBHA monitors fidelity of implementation and the outcomes that are achieved. All protocols may be located on the ADHS/DBHS website www.azdhs.gov/bhs/guidance.

- Clinical Practice Guidelines
  Clinical Practice Guidelines refer to existing national standards that provide evidence-based recommendations for the assessment and treatment of psychiatric disorders and help ensure appropriate clinical practice and positive outcomes. For example, the American Psychiatric Association (APA) addresses psychiatric disorders and the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry (AACAP) addresses child and adolescent psychiatric disorders.

10.18.6-A General Requirements
Clinical practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines are effective tools that can guide clinical decision making by Child and Family and Adult Recovery Teams. These tools support the provision of appropriate clinical practice that can lead to positive outcomes for service recipients.

NARBHA adopts selected national practice guidelines and requires implementation by providers. The NARBHA Clinical Care Committee, which is composed of NARBHA clinical leadership, peer and family members and clinical providers, selects clinical practice guidelines for adoption and reviews expectations annually. Additionally, each year DBHS requires adoption and monitoring of select Clinical Practice Protocols and Clinical Practice Guidelines.
The NARBHA Clinical Care Committee develops, adopts and implements additional best and promising practices [(42 CFR 438.236 (b)] that are:

- Based on valid and reliable clinical evidence or are generally supported by a consensus of behavioral health care professionals in a particular field;
- Tailored to meet member needs;
- Adopted in consultation with behavioral health care professionals;
- Reviewed and updated periodically as appropriate; and
- Able to provide a basis for consistent decisions for utilization management, member education, coverage of services and other areas to which the guidelines apply [42 CFR 438.236 (d)].

Members and providers are informed of the best practices and practice protocols through the NARBHA Member Handbook, dissemination of NARBHA policy manual to all contracted providers, and are available to members on the NARBHA website (www.narbha.org) and/or through request to NARBHA Member Services. [42 CFR 438.236(c)]

Current practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines adopted and monitored by NARBHA for implementation by providers include:

- The Child and Family Team Practice Protocol (revised 08/15/2009)
- Psychiatric Best Practice for Children Birth to Five Years of Age (revised 07/20/2012)

Clinical resources: In addition to DBHS and NARBHA required protocols and clinical practice guidelines, there are a number of other resources that can assist in clinical decision-making, evidenced-based treatment, and improved outcomes for service recipients. NARBHA strongly encourages consideration and use of these tools based on individual member needs.

10.18.6-B: Policy Requirements

Required practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines are incorporated by reference into provider contracts. NARBHA ensures compliance with this requirement through monitoring functions. Whenever possible, NARBHA will build monitoring into existing administrative process to increase efficiency and reduce burden on providers. Providers must demonstrate:

- Consideration of practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines in clinical decision-making and service planning. Child and Family Teams and Adult Recovery Teams must utilize required practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines as relevant to member needs.

- Adherence to service expectations/required elements of identified practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines. Each contract year DBHS will require T/RBHAs to implement and monitor select practice protocols. NARBHA may identify additional guidelines and expectations that will be monitored.

- Training for staff on required practice protocols and clinical practice guidelines. NARBHA will continue to first introduce practice protocols and guidelines through live or web-based training, technical assistance and/or coaching, in order to assist providers in integrating guidelines into practice. NARBHA requires all new provider employees to complete the Overview Training to Joint Protocols and Clinical Practice Guidelines on Essential Learning. All clinical staff must take complete this overview annually.

10.18.6-C: Monitoring and Performance Improvement

NARBHA will implement ongoing monitoring through chart reviews, review of complaint data, and/or direct monitoring of fidelity measures. Providers who do not practice in a manner consistent with guidelines will be subject to performance improvement requirements through NARBHA and may be subject to financial sanctions for continued evidence of non-fidelity. Performance reflecting fidelity to practice guidelines may be included in provider profiles and will be posted on the NARBHA web site for the benefit of members, families, and other stakeholders. NARBHA may elect to direct referrals and funding to other network providers if a provider continues to practice in a manner inconsistent with adopted guidelines.

NARBHA will identify guidelines and/or evidenced-based practices for enhanced monitoring and oversight, including monitoring of Practice Protocols selected by ADHS/DBHS. These will be identified annually in the System of Care plans. Monitoring will be conducted regularly through application of the ADHS/DBHS Practice Guideline Monitoring Tools. Performance Improvement will be implemented for any providers not meeting service expectations.
