

Clinical Liaison

A behavioral health professional or a behavioral health technician who has been credentialed and privileged by the T/RBHA or their designee in accordance with ADHS/DBHS requirements to perform this function. The clinical liaison:

- Assumes the primary responsibility of clinical oversight of the person's care
- Ensures the clinical soundness of the assessment/treatment process
- Serves as the point of contact, coordination and communication with the person's team and other systems where clinical knowledge of the case is important.