

Interpretation

The transfer of oral speech from a source language into a target language while maintaining the speaker's intent.